What’s Cooking?

The market is embarking on a project to collect recipes that utilize the fresh seasonal ingredients found on Boistfort Street each summer. We would love to hear directly from you how you use the food and products you pick up each week at the market. Our goal is to put together a cook book of recipes that are specifically used and created by our wonderful customers.

And for every recipe you submit, you will be entered into a weekly drawing for a market gift certificate!

Let us know what your family is having for dinner this summer by emailing Brenda or stop by the Market Info Booth on Tuesday afternoons. We can’t wait to hear what’s cooking at your house!!
